

RESIDENT PHYSICIAN OF THE MONTH

January 2024

Dr. Nanki Ahluwalia

Internal Medicine
University of Calgary

I was born and raised in the vibrant and culturally rich landscapes of India. In my early years, my family and I moved to Alberta, Canada where I eventually grew up. I pursued my medical training in St. Maarten and soon after, received research opportunity and scholarship in Toronto before coming out to Calgary to complete my Internal Medicine residency training. I have met an incredible group of people during my residency and I have been so lucky to call them my friends and colleagues!

My journey is not all stethoscopes and textbooks! I find solace in oil painting and enjoy photography. You may also see me playing badminton, table tennis, or even swimming depending on the mood or rather the season.

A colleague had this to say about Dr. Ahluwalia

I am nominating Nanki Ahluwalia for the Resident Physician of the month awards due to her exceptional qualities as a medicine resident. Her dedication to patient care is evident in her compassionate interactions. Nanki possesses strong communication skills, conveying complex medical information with empathy. She exhibits a passion for continuous learning and staying updated with the latest medical advancements. Nanki excels in leadership, fostering a collaborative team environment. She maintains composure under pressure, showcasing professionalism. Beyond clinical excellence, she contributes to research and community outreach. Her commitment to both patient care and the community makes her an outstanding candidate for the award. I am confident that Nanki will continue to excel and inspire in her medical career
